

COMPETENCIES FOR A CHANGING WORLD IN THE SOUTH AFRICAN CONTEXT

Understanding the state of South African policy and practices surrounding the implementation of skills for a changing world

With the future as unpredictable as ever, we need to rethink the skills, competencies and knowledge learners need to navigate the world we live in.

The Levers of Change webinar will provide a snap shot of what these skills could look like in the South African education system and what is needed to successfully implement these in classrooms.

Holistically developed student creativity social and cross cultural skills ubuntu collaboration critical thinking flexibility productivity leadership adaptability accountability communication

Optimal and optimizing human and financial resources

Embedding skills for a changing world in the curriculum

Coherent articulation of and about skills for a changing world across policies or policy alignment

Alignment across different agencies in the education sector; basic education, higher education and qualification and quality agencies

Professional development of pre-service and in-service teachers to ensure that teachers can implement any new pedagogical approaches