

PARTNERS

The conference is organized by JET Education Services in cooperation with and generously supported by the UNESCO Regional Office for Southern Africa (UNESCO ROSA), the SARChI Chair in Global Change and Social Learning Systems' Transforming Education for Sustainable Futures (TESF) project at Rhodes University and the Open Society Foundation.

JET EDUCATION SERVICES

JET Education Services, as the successor to the Joint Education Trust founded in 1992, is an independent, non-profit organisation that works with government, the private sector, international development agencies and education institutions to improve the quality of education and the relationship between education, skills development and the world of work, particularly for disadvantaged communities in South Africa and Africa.

UNESCO REGIONAL OFFICE FOR SOUTHERN AFRICA (UNESCO ROSA)

The UNESCO Office in Harare was initially established in 1986 as a sub-regional office for education in Southern Africa, with a special emphasis on higher education. Since then, it has also played the role of cluster office, covering four countries (Botswana, Malawi, Zambia and Zimbabwe) and since 2014 as UNESCO Regional Office for Southern Africa, covering all of UNESCO's programme sectors: Education, Sciences, Culture, and, Communication and Information, in nine countries, namely Botswana, Eswatini, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia, South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe, with national offices in Mozambique and Namibia. The office serves as UNESCO's focal point for cooperation with the Southern African Development Community (SADC) as well as for the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA).

SARCHI CHAIR IN GLOBAL CHANGE AND SOCIAL LEARNING SYSTEMS' TRANSFORMING EDUCATION FOR SUSTAINABLE FUTURES (TESF) PROJECT AT RHODES UNIVERSITY

The Environmental Learning Research Centre (ELRC) at Rhodes university is the home of a vibrant and diverse community of scholars and environmental education practitioners, and forms a regional hub of environmental learning innovation. The centre hosts a postgraduate research programme of between 50-60 Masters and PhDs scholars. The centre increasingly works with local, national, regional and international partners to develop research-informed and research-led short and certificate courses and enjoys collaborative partnerships with over 50 partners across the world. One such partnership is with the Transforming Education for Sustainable Futures (TESF) network which supports collaborative research to develop understanding of how education systems can act as drivers of sustainable development in India, Rwanda, Somalia/Somaliland and South Africa. The TEF is funded by the Global Challenges Research Fund through the Economic and Social Research Council Network Plus scheme. It is coordinated out of the University of Bristol and works with partners in India, Rwanda, Somalia/Somaliland, South Africa, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands. It is due to run for three and a half years, from November 2019 to April 2023.
